INDEX TO VOLUME FIVE

Alsaker, Françoise D. and Ole J. Hovland. Irrationality as a self-defeating value-orientation: A further study of the SVO-12 scale 118
Auger, Lucien. Are human beings free? 49
Blount, John B. See Jacobsen, Rebecca H.
Burnis, James J. See Vestre, Norris D.
Davison, Gerald C. and Vivien Zighelboim. Irrational beliefs in the articulated thoughts of college students with social anxiety 238
Ellis, Albert. Can humans think their way to increased freedom?—Reply to Auger 54
Ellis, Albert. Note on Ian Gilmore's distinction between quantitative and qualitative inappropriate or irrational beliefs 194
Ellis, Albert. See Warren, Ricks
Farley, Roy C. Rational Behavior problem-solving as a career development intervention for persons with disabilities 32
Forman, Michael A., Donald J. Tosi, and David R. Rudy. Common irrational beliefs associated with the psychophysiological conditions of low back pain, peptic ulcers, and migraine headache: A multivariate study 255
Gough, Deborah. Rational-emotive therapy: A discussion of its applicability for deaf clients 162
Harrison, William R. See Hyer, Leon
Hovland, Ole J. See Alsaker, Françoise D.
Hyer, Leon, William R. Harrison, and Rebecca H. Jacobsen. Later-life depression: Influences of irrational thinking and cognitive impairment 43
Jacobsen, Rebecca H., Arthur S.Tamkin, and John B. Blount, Jr. The efficacy of rational-emotive group therapy in psychiatric inpatients 22
Jacobsen, Rebecca H. See Hyer, Leon
Kassinove, Howard. See Phillips, Mindy
Lawrence, Constance. Rational-emotive therapy and the religious lient 13
Malouff, John M., Joanne Valdenegro, and Nicola S. Schutte. Further validation of a measure of irrational belief 189
McLellarn, Robert W. See Warren, Ricks
Phillips, Mindy and Howard Kassinove. Effects of profanity, touch, and sex of the counselor on perceptions of the counselor and behavioral compliance: Implications for rational-emotive therapists 3
Rudy, David R. See Forman, Michael A.
Russo, Thomas. Cognitive counseling for health care compliance 125

Schutte, Nicola S. See Malouff, John M.
Shibles, Warren. Reformatory Blame 266
Tamkin, Arthur S. See Jacobsen, Rebecca H.
Thorpe, Geoffrey L. See Zwerdling, Alan B.
Tosi, Donald J. See Forman, Michael A.
Valdenegro, JoAnne. See Malouff, John M.
Vestre, Norris D. and James J. Burris. Irrational beliefs and the impact of stressful life events 183
Warren, Ricks and Robert W. McLellarn. What do RET therapists think they are doing? An international survey 71
Warren, Ricks, Robert W. McLellarn, and Albert Ellis. Albert Ellis' personal response to the survey of rational-emotive therapists 92
Woods, Paul J. Do you really want to maintain that a flat tire can upset your stomach? Using the findings of the psychophysiology of stress to bolster the argument that people are not directly disturbed by events 149
Woods, Paul J. Reductions in Type A behavior, anxiety, anger, and physical illness as related to changes in irrational beliefs: Results of a demonstration project in industry 213
Zighelboim, Vivien. See Davison, Gerald C.
Zwerdling, Alan B. and Geoffrey L. Thorpe. Anger and irrational thought: Questionnaire and interview ratings 108